Price List

A special note to all Wellness Quest, LLC Clients that have used NEW EDEN:

The initial field testing and post marketing surveys have been a success! The degree of wellness and quality of life responses from those who have used NEW EDEN has been very gratifying.

One major ingredient change was made, based on individuals' experiences with the many micronutrients restored to the diet. The initial glutamate came from the processing of shrimp shells that triggered a shrimp allergic response in three people. The glutamate now used is derived from a plant source, fermented corn.

It is now necessary to apply basic business principles to the operation, and that requires a change in the volume discount pricing structure to be able to cover the cost of doing business. A single (300 gram - over 100 teaspoons per tub) is still $125. The retail discount has been changed for 3 and 5 tub orders.
